INDIAN CREEK CEMETERY, about 4 miles from Comanche, may be reached by taking Highway #67 east from town. About 1 mile east of the city limit, turn onto a county road which forks to the right. About 1/3 of a mile beyond this junction, cross the railroad track. Take care here. The visibility is poor and there is no warning signal. Continue on this road almost 1½ miles and turn right onto another county road. Follow this about one mile and the cemetery is easily seen on the southeast side of the road opposite Indian Creek Church.

The cemetery is enclosed by a chain link fence and is maintained by poisoning the vegetation. The earliest marked grave is that of Oliver McBrayer who died 4 December 1880. A historical marker at the site states that "the land, then property of R. C. Coker, was given to the church by later owner J.H. Watson in 1894". Also buried here is Kate M. [Campbell], the wife of J.P. Anderson, who was the first girl born in the territory which became Comanche County soon after her birth. The inscriptions were copied in January, 1975.
